

MORE DICKERS BY ARCHBALD TOLD AT CONGRESS PROBE

President Truesdale of Lackawanna Road and Judge's Own Nephew Give Testimony.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—"Dickers" of Judge W. R. Archbald of the Commerce Court with the Lehigh Valley and Lackawanna Railroad appeared in evidence to-day before the House Judiciary Committee. President Truesdale and Vice-President Loomis of the Lackawanna appeared in the impeachment investigation for the first time. Other evidence against Archbald was given by his nephew, James Archbald Jr., engineer for the Stephen Girard Estate of Philadelphia, and George E. Kirkpatrick, superintendent of the estate.

Archbald's nephew and Kirkpatrick said the Judge tried to lease, last December, culm coal piles near Shenandoah, Pa., from the Girard Estate. They said he told them that he had obtained the consent of Lehigh Valley Railroad officials, who had "blanket" leases of the Girard coal land, he told them.

"When you received this application from Judge Archbald, did you think there was anything improper in it?" asked Representative Sterling of Kirkpatrick.

"It did occur to me that it was improper for a Judge on the bench to engage in mercantile business," answered Mr. Kirkpatrick.

"Did it occur to you that the Judge might have been favored by the railway company because of his position on the bench, and did that influence you to decline his proposition?" asked Mr. Sterling.

"It occurred to me, but did not influence me," said the witness.

James Archbald corroborated the testimony of Mr. Kirkpatrick.

In his correspondence with his nephew, Judge Archbald, discussing his experience on the Commerce Court bench, said he was going back to Washington "unless the hotheads put the court out of business."

William H. Truesdale, President of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, called to testify to Judge Archbald's participation in coal dump dealings with his railroad, said he did not talk with the Judge about any deal and did not know him. He said the Judge had not written to him but to other officials of the road about the Marion Coal Company. He said a conference on this controversy was held and he attended it.

"How did you regard a Judge's connection with this matter?" asked Chairman Clayton.

"Naturally, I was somewhat puzzled that a Judge should be concerned in this, but as the Judge in Scranton I thought he had a neighborly interest in the matter," said Mr. Truesdale.

"Did you think it was proper or improper for the Judge to be concerned about this matter?"

"I did not pass on the propriety of it. I will say I thought it rather unusual."

TWO WOMEN GO INSANE.

One Jumps Into Creek and the Other Wanders Streets.

The police of the Fourth Street Station, Long Island City, got three insane prisoners on their hands simultaneously to-day. They were Mrs. Anna Hill, thirty-seven years old of No. 28 Rutledge street, who jumped into Newtown Creek from the foot of Verona avenue, Mrs. Gertrude Will, formerly a nurse in the Manhattan State Hospital for the insane, and Daniel Crowley, fifty-four years old of No. 31 East Thirty-seventh street.

Mrs. Hill was rescued from the creek by two bridge tenders and just as she was being taken into the station house Crowley and the former insane asylum nurse walked in. They had been wandering aimlessly about and were both incapable of coherent speech. Their identity was obtained from papers in their pockets. Two ambulances carried the man and the two women to the Kings County Hospital.

CONVENTION TICKET WAR GROWING HOT; NEW CALLS DIXON

Declares 250 Were Asked for Roosevelt National Committee, Not for the Colonel.

CHICAGO, May 31.—The ticket tangle continued to furnish excitement at the Republican National Convention headquarters to-day, and exception to the statement of Senator Joseph M. Dixon, Roosevelt campaign manager, that he had asked for tickets for Col. Roosevelt's personal use and had been refused was made by Col. Harry S. New, Chairman of the sub-committee on arrangements for the convention.

"I wish to deny Senator Dixon's public statement that he asked for 250 tickets for the personal use of Col. Roosevelt," said Col. New. The telegram which I received read: "For the use of the Roosevelt National Committee."

"I do not want to be put in the position of having been discomfited to Col. Roosevelt or any other distinguished citizen. In denying Senator Dixon's request I simply followed the precedent established by my predecessors in the National Committee and carried out the rule that no tickets should be allotted to the managers of Presidential candidates."

"If Col. Roosevelt were to make application for a reasonable number of tickets for his own use, for the use of his family, or for personal friends, he would get them."

"A week ago Congressman McKinley, the Taft manager, called me on the long distance telephone and asked me for a number of tickets. I was obliged to refuse and explained why I refused. The manager of Senator La Follette's campaign has asked for tickets and has been refused. Presidential candidates are being treated alike in this matter."

"President Taft has been allotted 150 tickets as President of the United States for the use of himself, his family, public officials and foreign diplomats. This courtesy is one which always has been shown by the National Committee."

"I object to Senator Dixon's statement which makes it appear that I had snubbed Col. Roosevelt. Nothing of the kind was done."

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Senator Joseph H. Dixon, campaign manager for Col. Roosevelt to-day continued his attack on Col. Harry S. New of the Republican National Committee for his refusal to give to Col. Roosevelt and his friends 250 tickets of admission to the Chicago convention hall. He charged while Col. New was refusing "one single, solitary ticket to ex-President Roosevelt," he had 3,500 convention tickets "now in his inside pocket."

"This last performance of Mr. Taft's personal representatives was a disgraceful, cheap, petty larceny policy that has governed the Taft campaign to date," was Dixon's declaration. "His gratuitous insult to the only living ex-President in this great country is a disgrace to the party."

"With stories printed that the convention tickets are already quoted at $50 each, Republicans are interested in knowing by what authority Mr. New has arrogated to himself the distribution of them."

Senator Dixon to-morrow or Sunday will go to New York to confer with Col. Roosevelt before going to Chicago. He expects to reach the latter city Tuesday.

Woman Burned Fighting Fire.

Mrs. Mary Daly, who lives in an apartment at No. 133 East Forty-eighth street, was badly burned about the body today when she attempted to extinguish a fire which started through an unknown cause in the living room of her home. She was in her kitchen when she smelled smoke and ran into the living room to find the portieres and sofa beneath them blazing. Neighbors answered her screams and put out the fire. Dr. Dietrich removed her to the Flower Hospital in an ambulance.

WALL STREET

At the opening of the stock market to-day prices gave promise of decided improvement. Lehigh Valley advanced over a point and other issues were considerably above the final range of Wednesday. The higher conditions were only temporary, however, for aggressive selling of Reading developed, which quickly had the market pointing downward. At the end of the first hour Reading reacted below 170 and other securities lost about all of their initial gains.

A feature of the early dealings was the exceptionally large number of shares selling ex-dividend.

A selling demonstration against the Rock Island shares started a general slump in the afternoon period. Led by Reading, Union Pacific, Steel and Copper, the entire list fell from one to three points below the mid-day level.

The liquidation was particularly severe against Reading, which reacted from 174 to below 167. Steel and Union Pacific also crashed down to the lowest ranges recorded in some time.

Very little rallying power was manifested at closing time, the market practically ranging around the bottom at the finish.

Net losses ran from one to four points.
